Special Educational Needs and Disability School Information Report

What are Special Educational Needs?

“A learning difficulty or disability is a significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of others of the same age.”

We provide SEND support for students with significant needs in the following areas:

- Communication and Interaction
- Cognition and Learning
- Social, mental and emotional health
- Sensory and /or Physical.

What provision is available for my child?

- Communication and Interaction
- Cognition and Learning
- Social, mental and emotional health
- Sensory and /or Physical.

We are a fully inclusive school who ensures that all students achieve their potential personally, socially, emotionally and academically in all areas of the curriculum (regardless of their gender, ethnicity, social background, religion, sexual identity, physical ability or educational needs). This table is intended to give you information regarding the ways in which we ensure we support all of our students, including those with SEND, in order that they can realise their full potential. It may not list every skill, resource and technique we employ in order to achieve this as these are continually developed and used to modify our provision to meet the changing requirements for individual pupils.

Students are identified as having SEND when their progress has slowed or stopped and the interventions, resources etc. put in place do not enable improvement. Once this occurs, we have student profiles to help support their development and accelerate progress. Students at Abbot Beyne make at least good progress and achieve at least in line with other schools nationally with SEND.
